the routledge companion to cultural text and the nation brings together over 30 articles by leading and emerging scholars from around the world who engage fresh critical lenses from affect studies to the medical humanities and re energize established frameworks to examine the interplay between cultural production and conceptualizations of the nation and nationalism the scholarship in this volume takes as its objects of analysis various forms of aesthetic and cultural production from film and literature to museums and costume books enriching the conversation that has often siloed these forms geared toward scholars graduate students and upper level undergraduates across the humanities and social sciences this timely interdisciplinary collection is issued at a critical juncture in the transformation of the nation and the global resurgence of regressive and populist nationalist movements both offering new insights reorienting our understanding of canonical materials and bringing noncanonical works to light this volume challenges long held assumptions about the nation while establishing its continued significance and future possibilities

one of the times and sunday times best books for 2022 eye opening and full of surprises a treasure sunday times a biography as rich with colourful characters as any novel telegraph john constable the revolutionary nineteenth century painter of the landscapes and skies of southern england is britain s best loved but perhaps least understood artist his paintings reflect visions of landscape that shocked and perplexed his contemporaries attentive to detail spontaneous in gesture brave in their use of colour what we learn from his landscapes is that constable had sharp local knowledge of suffolk a clarity of expression of the skyscapes above hampstead an understanding of the human tides in london and brighton and a rare ability in his late paintings of salisbury cathedral to transform silent suppressed passion into paint yet constable was also an active and energetic correspondent his letters and diaries there are over one thousand letters from and to him reveal a man of passion opinion and discord while his character and personality is concealed behind the high shimmering colour of his paintings they reveal too the lives and circumstances of his brothers and his sisters his cousins and his aunts who serve to define the social and economic landscape against which he can be most clearly seen these multifaceted reflections draw a sharp picture of the person as well as the painter james hamilton s biography reveals a complex troubled man and explodes previous mythologies about this timeless artist and establishes him in his proper context as a giant of european art between 1614 and 1775 some 50 000 english men women and children were sentenced by judicial process to be sent to the american colonies for a variety of crimes the data on these involuntary colonists came from a variety of official records which the author of this work spent over fifteen years studying among those covered were minutes of eleven courts of assize and jail delivery and of twenty eight courts of quarter session as well as treasury papers money books patent rolls state papers and sessions papers the names of those deported are printed in alphabetical order and form what can be considered the largest passenger list of its kind ever published the data presented in this volume is highly condensed but most entries include some or all of the following information parish of origin sentencing court nature of the offense date of sentence date and ship on which transported date and place landed in america and the english county in which the sentence was passed
